Letters To The Class Of 1986

SAINT MICHAEL'S COLLEGE Winooski, Vermont 05404
(802) 655-2000

Office of the President

To the Class of 1986:

This page of the Hilltop gives me another opportunity, which I welcome, to congratulate the members of the Class of 1986. I know that the faculty and staff of the College join me in extending to you our very best wishes for the future. We trust that your days at Saint Michael's, some of which are portrayed in the pages of this volume, were ones of personal, spiritual and intellectual growth for you and that you graduate prepared for not only the career of which you are capable but also for the personal challenges and trials which you will undoubtedly face.

About four years ago your lives and a College in Vermont named for Saint Michael came together. Within that College the lives of the members of the class of 1986 came together. It has been a good association for the College, for the class and, I trust, for you.

Now you have departed from the campus on the hilltop taking with you both memories and friends. It is my hope for you that your association with Saint Michael's and with your class will continue strong into the future. It will not be easy since distance and differing pursuits divide us but Saint Michael's and the members of the Class of 1986 can continue to benefit from a continuing close association. I hope to see many of you when you visit the campus for reunions, homecoming and other events and at meetings of alumni chapters around the country.

It was only in your Senior year that I was with you but in that year I learned that Saint Michael's is a College of which you can be very proud to be alumnae and alumni and that the Class of 1986 is a Class of which Saint Michael's can be proud.

Congratulations.

Sincerely,

Dr. Paul J. Reiss
President

Class of 1986
St. Michael's College
Winooski, Vermont

Dear Class of '86:

Please accept my sincere congratulations on your graduation and be assured of my own prayers and the prayers of my brother Edmundites for God's blessings throughout your life.

I have a sense of deep gratitude to God for the opportunity He has given to the Society of St. Edmund to serve you here at St. Michael's. We established the college in 1904 and as each class completes its work, I become more aware of how God continues to bless us increasingly in our service.

In my capacity as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the college and in the name of my fellow trustees, I wish to assure you that the trust you have been during the past four years, a trust given to us by God, will not cease when you graduate. Our commitment to you will continue, for we have a sense that you have been entrusted to us, not only for four years but for life.

Thank you and thank God.

Retiring In 1985-6

Dr. Edward Pfelter, Professor of History, will retire at the end of this year. Dr. Pfelter began his St. Michael's career as a student, returning in later years as a teacher in history, American Studies, and the humanities. He has also served the college as Academic Dean, and Dean of Men (when the college was all men).

Dr. Marie Henault, Professor of English, will retire at the end of this year. Dr. Henault came to St. Michael's in 1962 as a part-time instructor. She began teaching full-time in 1965, and became the first woman to chair a department at St. Michael's a few years later. Her professional credentials include an Outstanding Educator in America Award in 1972. She has an extensive publication record. Her first poetry criticism, published in 1980, was favorably reviewed by the Burlington Free Press.

Fine arts professor Roy Kennedy will retire in 1986, after 19 years of teaching sculpture and painting at St. Michael's. Professor Kennedy was an accomplished artist before joining the St. Michael's faculty in 1967, his work being exhibited at the Denver Art Museum, Dartmouth College, the Fleming Museum, Rockefeller Center, and of course St. Michael's. He sculpted the college's presidential mace and the bronze bust of "Doc" Jacobs on display in the Ross Sports Center showcase.

Sensibility

In the cornfields
we walked between stubbly rows of summer remnants in October, sat on damp hay bales, snapped dried straw as secrets broke,
their fragments never restored only pieced together in each others' minds,
our philosophy of human nature.
The need for warmth came first when the wind predicted snow,
we watched as winter killed
pretention, covered mock maturity with rag wool and random
snowflakes on receptive tongues.
Eyes searched for the small green shoot rising through a mix of mud and snow as the earth pushed, the sun pulled and caught in the middle we sensed the irony of seasonal change, a learning that would last when the details were lost.

Dedication

"I had him freshman year, and I was really screwing up. I never went to class, never studied for tests, never did the reading. At mid-semester I got a D warning. I expected it. But he also wrote this great three-page note to my parents, telling them what was going on and telling them not to worry because I'd do all right. I still have that note."

Student, Class of 1987

"The paper was about a week late. I went to his office and handed it to him, along with an excuse about having computer problems, or something like that. He nodded, but he had the faintest hint of a smile on his face while I was talking. He wasn't buying it, but he didn't say anything. It was like he was telling me that the sun wouldn't stay down the next day just because I handed a paper in late."

Student, Class of 1986

"I've never met anyone who has had as successful a life as he has, but who is so unassuming and quiet about it."

Student, Class of 1971

Dr. Edward Pfeifer will retire from St. Michael's at the end of the 1985-86 academic year. He has served the college as a professor of history, a professor of American Studies, a professor of the humanities, and as Academic Dean and Dean of the College.

In the 42 years he has spent at St. Michael's as an educator and student, Dr. Pfeifer has worked with some of the college's legendary names: Dupont, Boutin, Alliot, Durick. To the students of the eighties, these are more edifices than names; buildings and scholarships rather than men. But to Dr. Pfeifer, they were colleagues and friends. One man whom he was especially proud to call a friend was Professor Jerimiah K. Durick, the English professor for whom the library was named. In a testimonial to Professor Durick called "Ten Years Have Passed," Dr. Pfeifer describes the legendary teacher as:

... seeming in that far-away time to be solemn, almost stern, but my classmates and I recognized his manner as springing from preoccupation with scholarship, for he was indeed kind to his students, especially freshmen who asked unfortunate questions or were unwise in their remarks in class. But he awed us nevertheless. He seemed to have read the complete works of every author who had ever breathed and he seemed to know every scholarly work that had ever been written . . . I have often wondered at Professor Durick's appeal to students. A key to understanding his effectiveness in the classroom was, I think, provided several years ago by a Middlebury professor who was asked what makes a teacher popular. He answered that it is a capacity for reacting to students. He did not say that any particular response was necessary. Nor should be. But his answer did stress the reason that teaching is rightly called an art. It is an art because it de- mands that the teacher find his own way of expressing himself to the students whose lives he thereby influences.

The words that Dr. Pfeifer used to describe his friend could just as easily be used to characterize his own classroom demeanor. Students are still unwise in their remarks. They still ask unfortunate questions. Is there anyone who went through a class without wrenching out some fragmented logorrhea that was supposed to answer a question posed by a teacher? Has anyone agonized through an answer, groping for the right words while the class waits for completion in annoyed silence?

Those fortunate enough to have Dr. Pfeifer in class know how reassuring his tolerant nods were. They felt their faces cool down when the patient figure in the front of the room said, "What you say certainly makes sense . . ." or, "So what you seem to be saying is . . ." To have him bestow order on the fragmented thoughts and incomplete sentences was a supreme act of mercy. Most are thankful.

Like most modest men, Dr. Pfeifer shuns attention. But we must ask him to let us intrude on him this one time, to offer him a token of our appreciation. He has never sought it out, but it is richly deserved.

On behalf of the hundreds of students and educators who have enjoyed his wit, been awed by his knowledge, and touched by his kindness, the Class of 1986 proudly dedicates this edition of the Hilltop to Dr. Edward J. Pfeifer.

RE: Enclosed report of planet Earth

From what we have observed about this planet, we discourage any contact at this time. The natives are a mass of idiosyncracies dominated by a psychological weapon known as "advertising." An obviously subversive tool, this "advertising" is used to instruct the natives as to what they may wear, how they must smell, and where to live.

There does appear to be some hope, however. On one night of their lunar cycle, their behavior falls into a pattern much like that observed on most other planets. They shed their strange garb in favor of more practical wear, leave their vehicles at their dwellings, and engage in a communal ritual called a "Halloween Party." One highlight of this affair involves throwing partially filled drinking receptacles at cavorting figures on a stage. There appears to be hope for this species yet.

PARENTS WEEKEND

Dearest Future St. Michael's Students,

On the assumption that since we are graduating seniors (most of us) and should have some wisdom to pass on, we feel it is only right to pass on these secrets that have been handed down to us by preceeding generations of St. Mike's alumni. This knowledge concerns one of your most important events as a student at St. Michael's: Parents Weekend.

If you consult your calendar of the academic year you will notice that Parents Weekend has been given a strategic place toward the end of the school year. Whether this is contrived or a magnificent accident, it is a piece of largess that you should remember on your next foray to 11:00 A.M. mass. You will have been, at this point, at St. Michael's for almost four months. The week you spent either at home or on vacation in February was just barely enough to get the taste of Saga cooking - or worse, your own cooking if you live in preferred housing - out of your mouth. Every fiber of your body should convulse in carnal ecstasy (the legal kind) at the thought of a decent meal. That is our primary reason for leaving this legacy. To inform you of the Golden Rules of Parents Weekend. As follows:

1. Upon receiving the Parents Weekend literature at your home during Easter vacation, immediately black-out any offers by the college to feed you and your paernts.
2. Make reservations at every decent restaurant in town, so you can choose.
3. Don't appear over eager, no matter how ferociously your stomach is growling.
4. Suggest, don't decide.
5. If you've been successful once, don't suggest another meal out the next day. The issue is quality, not quantity.
6. Eat with your knife and fork, no matter how slow and inefficient it may seem.
7. Avoid licking your plate or sneaking food from someone else. There is such a thing as over doing it.
8. Act as glad to see your folks as they probably are to see you (this should be an unnecessary piece of advice).

Good Hunting!

Sincerely,
St. Michael's Class of 1986

P-Day

P-Day 1986!!!! The fun! The excitement! The LINES!
 "Tips accepted! Are those clowns kidding!"
 "No, and couldja get your elbow out of my eye?"
 "As soon as I get un-impaled from this fence."
 "Hold out a dollar bill and you'll get served."
 "Hold out a dollar bill? What did we bounce $10 for if we have to tip those jokers?"
 "To get inside the fence."
 "Oh yeah, have you seen the line to get inside the fence . . ."
 "What time is it?"
 "Quarter of one."
 "That makes it an even hour I've been standing in this line. I feel like I'm at registration again."
 "Registration was more fun than this!"
 "It moved faster - that's for sure."
 "Hey, check that out."
 "Now that's the way to get in."
 "Yeah, no wonder the end of the line's not moving. You have to know someone up front."
 "Well, at least we can look forward to a nice cold beer when we get in . . ."
 "IF EVERYONE DOESN'T MOVE BACK FROM THE FENCE WE'RE GOING TO SHUT THE TAPS OFF!!!"
 "YEAH, WELL HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE A DEAD BARTENDER??!!"
 "YOU SHUT THOSE TAPS OFF AND YOU'RE GONNA NEED AN AIRLIFT OUT OF THERE!!"

. . . and the music . . .

"ONE TWO THREE FOUR . . . . FEEEEEEEDBAAAAACK DISSSSSTORRRRTION . . ."

"Hey, what song was that?"
 "The same one they've been playing for the last half-hour."
 "But I can't hear it!"
 "That's why they've been playing it for the last hour."
 "Hey, that's pretty smart . . ."

But, in the end, the lines, the aggravations, and the distortion couldn't put a damper on P-Day, St. Michael's contribution to the downfall of Western Civilization. The three-day tribute to hedonism kicked off with the great technicolor trike race and ended on the 300's field as St. Michael's nursed its collective hangover to the tunes of Pure Pressure. And between the two, for 24-hours a day, WE GOT SEDATED. (Our thanks to the Ramones for at least contributing a battle cry.)

Despite their erratic behavior, the Earth species does have an instinct for helping others like themselves. They especially lavish affection on their smaller duplicates. The group we observed called these smaller duplicates "Little Brothers and Sisters." The "Big Brothers and Sisters" spend at least one hour a week with their little ones. They engage in a Halloween Party, a "Christmas" Party, and a "Field Day." Their attempt to be "role models" to these little ones is a further reason to hope for this species.

This curious species continues to interest us. Their instinct for helping other members of their species is curiously civilized for this life form. One such group in the Northern Observation sector is, curiously, named for two artifacts associated with tyranny and injury. This group's sole purpose is to assist other service organizations. They do this through a variety of activities, the most interesting being a 48-hour long gathering in which they sway, jerk, and gyrate to raise money for a disease called Multiple Sclerosis. How curious.

The eternal question at St. Michael's: does the Defender print stories or commit them? But also, as always, there were some triumphs.

The Defender:

- Introduced Dr. Paul Reiss to St. Michael's with a front page story on his inauguration and a series of interviews.
- examined the issues of apartheid, divestment, student apathy, homosexuality on campus, and drug abuse. Until no one ever wanted to see those words in print again.
- followed the St. Michael's contingent to Craftsbury, survived Craftsbury, and ran a story and a photo essay about Craftsbury for those who did not attend this annual landmark event.
- batted down the hatches for Hurricane Gloria.
- made the statue of Doc Jacobs talk.
- Invented PUBBLES (Polished Urban Bohemians) to counter the Yuppie movement.

- and got monopolized in 1985.

And for the staff, there was the eternal specter of Monday layout to fight off . . .

"Who can pick up the photos at 2:00?"

"Paper due."

"Not in my job description."

"You lose. It is now."

"THERE ARE FIVE HEADLINES MISSING!"

"Start going through the trash and nobody throw anything out!"

"This story is too short."

"Break out the cancer society ads."

The basketball story is too long."

"Cut from the bottom."

"Ten inches?"

"Oh jeez . . ."

"Found the headlines."

"Great."

"But somebody forgot to send two front-page stories to Pat."

"I wonder if WWPV needs any help next semester?"

Drama Club

P. Fortington

WINOOSKI— The St. Michael's College Drama Club has been awarded the "We Do It the Hard Way" Award by the Vermont Association of Armchair Theater Critics for its fall production of Georg Buchner's avant garde play "Woyzeck." The cast and crew was competing in the American College Theater Festival for the chance to perform at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., and they certainly did it the hard way by choosing the surreal "Woyzeck." The audience was never quite certain whether to applaud, gasp, laugh, or cry at the powerful performance of Tim Bergeron in the lead role. What they did know was that they were watching one of the first-class performances they have come to expect from the Drama Club, under the direction of Professors Donald and Joanne Rathgeb. The generous applause at the end of the show may not have been for a happy ending, but it was for the superlative performances of Bergeron, Robin Connelly as Marie, Youssif Kamal as the Drum Major, Joe McGranaghan as Karl the Fool, and the entire supporting cast. The Drama Club went a little easier on itself in the spring by staging Shakespeare's comedy "Twelfth Night." The cast of Kristin Hoehl, Peter DiCaprio, Bill Kocis, Joe Hillyer, Steve Sawicki, Rich Gallerani, and Maura Campbell made memorizing the difficult English appear simple, and used it to convulse the audience with hysterical laughter. DiCaprio's and Marain Mannings plotting against Hillyer as the pompous Malvollo was a comic match made in heaven, and Kocis's foppish prancing as Sir Andrew garnered laughs where none were intended. Another winner for the Drama Club and the Rathgebbs, along with set designer James Peterson, the technical crew, and the stage crew.

RE: Addendum on charitable behavior human species.

In the Northern Observation area, student volunteers donate their time to, and occasionally risk their lives for, an organization called "St. Michael's Fire and Rescue." Members of this "Fire and Rescue" squad either work in eight-hour shifts, waiting to transport sick and injured members of their species to medical facilities, or are prepared to assist with combustion-control procedures in the surrounding community of humans all 24 hours of each day.

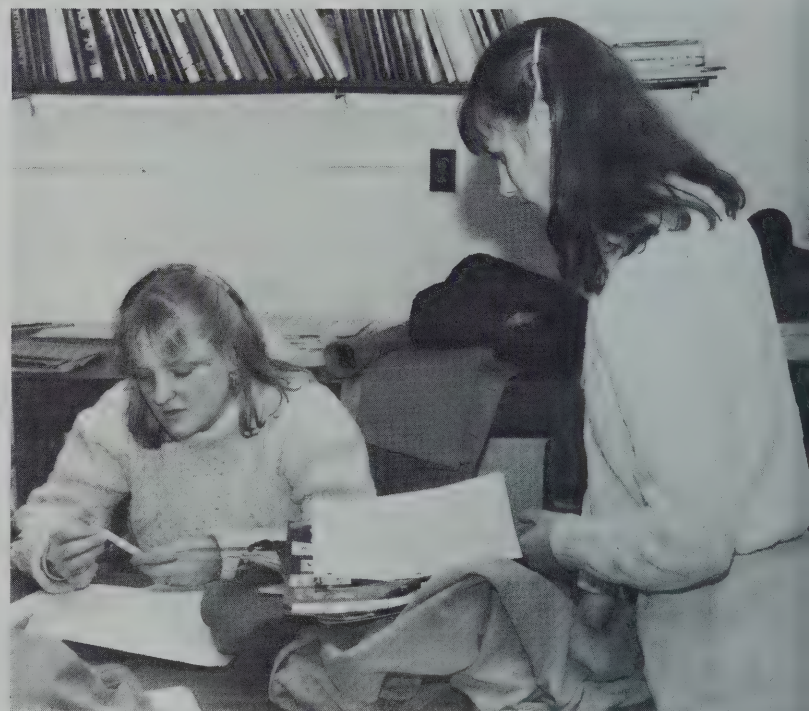

These volunteers sacrifice spare time, vacations, and seasonal feasts called "holidays" in order to keep "Fire and Rescue" operational. This is said to be unusual behavior for members of this sub-group. Both groups combined answer approximately 1,250 requests for assistance each year. Fascinating. Further updates as information is processed.

I need all of this for tomorrow's deadline . . .

Another week at the Hilltop . . .

•Pat was supposed to take a group picture on Tuesday. There was no group to take a picture of.

•The fantastic new idea for the divider pages will put us deeper in debt than the U.S. Government.

•Mike is three weeks late with the copy for the last deadline.

•Michelle needs a few more photos to fill the color section. Two or three hundred should do the trick.

•Kevin's layouts are making everyone else look bad.

•Anne is still trying to mop up the housing section. Hercules had an easier job with the stables.

•Beth is still the only person at the meetings who looks marginally calm.

•Marie is performing financial miracles that would make David Stockman turn green with envy.

•Linda is still waiting for everything to get turned in.

But something strange is happening. The whole thing is coming together!

Just another week at the Hilltop . . .

"Mr. Penoyar, could you tell me a little about the liturgical choir?"

"Sure, but call me John."

"Thank you."

"Well, the liturgical choir provides music for worship at the 11 am and 9 pm Masses. It's members of the St. Michael's community, alumni, and a few ISP students."

"Does it perform with the folk group?"

"No, the folk group performs the same kind of music the liturgical choir does. It's just that some people like to sing at night, others like to sing during the day."

"So one group performs folk during the day and the other performs liturgical at night?"

"No, they both perform liturgical music, but for the people that like to sing along we have one group, and for the other people we have the 9 pm group." (As the light finally snaps on in the interviewer's mind.) "Oh you have two different groups that do the same kind of music, just with two different names at two different times!"

"That's right. As a matter of fact, let's call both of them the "Liturgical Folk Choirs."

"Sounds okay to me."

I started at my map. Was I the only one against the idea? The only cautious one? I suppose I didn't really believe anyone would stop for us. I was staring up at the outline of a twisted olive tree against the darkness of the fading orange sky when I heard it — the crunch of tires on sand and Amy's excited voice.

"Someone's stopping!"

My heart beat faster as I realized that I did, indeed, belong here at this very moment, feeling the intense excitement of something new and potentially dangerous, a blend of fun and uncertainty. I like to believe I'm a Romantic at heart; occasionally, I do feel the flight of passion, but all too often, I experience the need to fight against the constraining and confusing chains of upbringing and society. I felt gullible in this foreign land, accepting a ride from a single, male stranger who spoke no English, but trust is formed with ease and freedom of nature. Little did we realize that our conception of that simple word, trust, would change so drastically when we were finally able to get out of that car.

Association For Computing Machinery

"Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to ACM, the St. Michael's chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery. ACM's purpose is to promote communication among people in the computer field, as well as serving as a computer club for any interested students. ACM will sponsor speakers on topics in computer science. They will talk about subjects like artificial intelligence, computer graphics, and information processing. Are there any questions? Yes, in the back."

"When do we learn about hacking?"

"Can we have that creature removed, please?"

Outing Club

The St. Michael's Outing Club: a group in pursuit of adventure in the great outdoors. Sometimes in extremes of weather that would have made Christopher Columbus turn around and head back to Spain. For example:

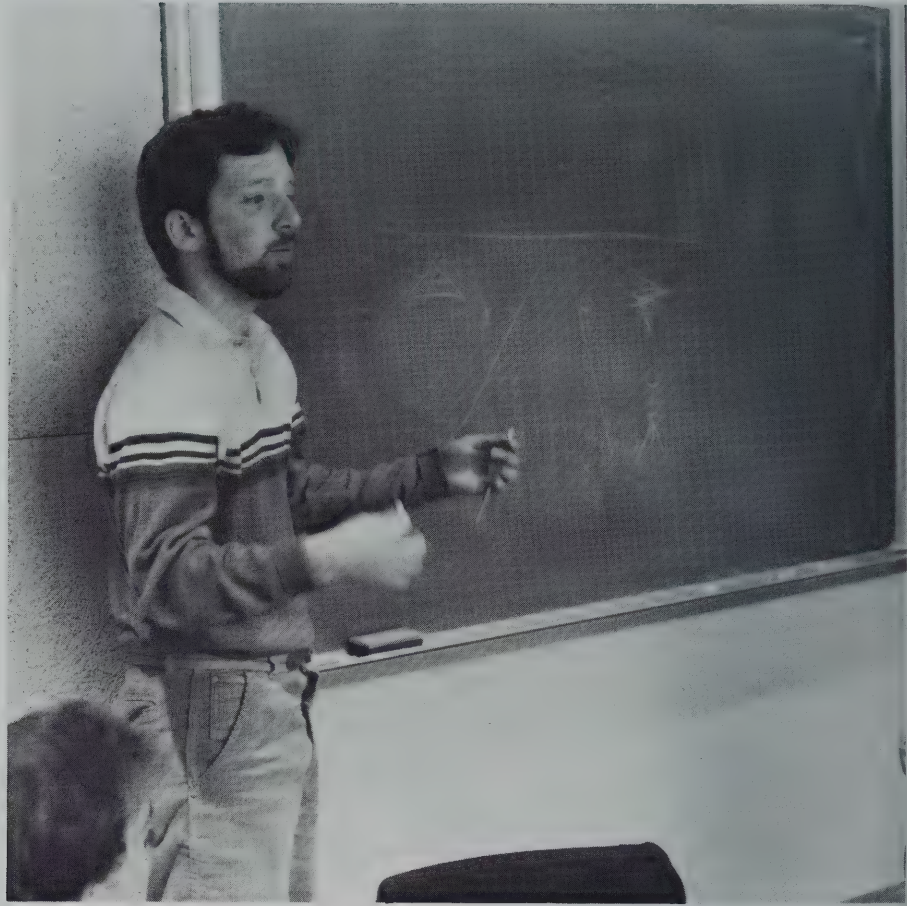

- brilliant sunshine for September's bike trip.
- followed by lightning and driving rain on Mt. Ascutney in October. Several prayers in praise of campfires were offered that night.
- snow, sleet, and rain in November for the six-hour ascent up Mt. Mansfield, where the five mountaineers shared a hut with the Harvard Outdoors Club, trading stories and enjoying.
- no snow for January's cross-country ski trip. Kudos to pathfinder Kevin Sheridan for finding white stuff on the wilderness trail. When the weather wasn't providing diversions, the human and natural landscape was. During the trip to Shenandoah National Park in Virginia, where the Vermont Dirty Dozen saw almost 60 deer, an incredible sunset, a soft-spoken dulcimer player, and Batman and Runyon. But that's another story.

"What?"
"A new carpet."
"You mean no more stale beer smell?"
"Nope."
"No more cigarette burns?"
"Nope."
"No more sneakers sticking to the floor?"
"Nope."
"Forget it. I'm going to Kell's."
"But they're having out of control specials! An Irish band. And it's only a short stumble home."
"Yeah, maybe. But there's no more atmosphere."
"You mean 'cause they got rid of the stink?"
"Hey man, some things are sacred, you know?"

Arnold Air Society

QUESTION: What is an air society?

ANSWER: An organization made up of Air Force ROTC Students.

QUESTION: What is the Arnold Air Society?

ANSWER: The St. Michael's air society.

QUESTION: What do they do?

ANSWER: They have conducted three blood drives for the American Red Cross, they cleaned up the area around the Green Mountain Nursing Home as part of a service project, started a petition on behalf of American soldiers suspected missing in Vietnam, they held a food drive for the Burlington Food Shelf (a shelter for the poor), and they were voted the outstanding squadron in the Northeast area of the country.

QUESTION: What does all that have to do with flying planes?

ANSWER: Nothing, but they do that too, sometimes.

QUESTIONER: Oh.

Social Awareness Committee

WINOOSKI— The "Hardest Job on Campus Award" for 1986 has been awarded to the St. Michael's College Social Awareness Committee for its plucky attempts to enlighten the student body.

This year the Social Awareness Committee affiliated itself with Amnesty International, the international human rights group. They also brought a representative from the Greenpeace environmental group to give talks on preserving the environment and to inform students about the possibilities of internships with the organization.

Perhaps the committee's most successful event of the year was a public talk by Dith Pran, the Cambodian journalist whose escape from his country became the basis for the film "The Killing Fields." Where a crowd of thirty was considered a triumph at most of the other events, the Dith Pran lecture played to a full house at the McCarthy Arts Center recital hall. Considering that imposing relevant knowledge on any normal, red-blooded St. Michael's student is like forcing cod liver oil on a child, the Hardest Job on Campus Award Committee would like to extend kudos to the Social Awareness Committee.

"What are we supposed to be debating tonight?"

"Debating?"

"Well, talking about."

"Hmmm. I'm not sure, to tell you the truth."

"Is it the motion supporting divestment?"

"No, we passed that one already. Remember the debate about divesting from companies that donate money to the college?"

"Oh yeah. Well, is it the 'PV stereo funding proposal'?"

"No, that one passed during the budget meetings."

"That's right too. How about the tuition increase?"

"Nix. That one was over before it started. The trustees passed it."

"Now there's a shocker. The only other thing I can think of is the Alliot renovations."

"Sorry. We already passed that one too."

"OH MY GOD, I REMEMBER WHAT IT IS NOW! HOW COULD WE FORGET!!"

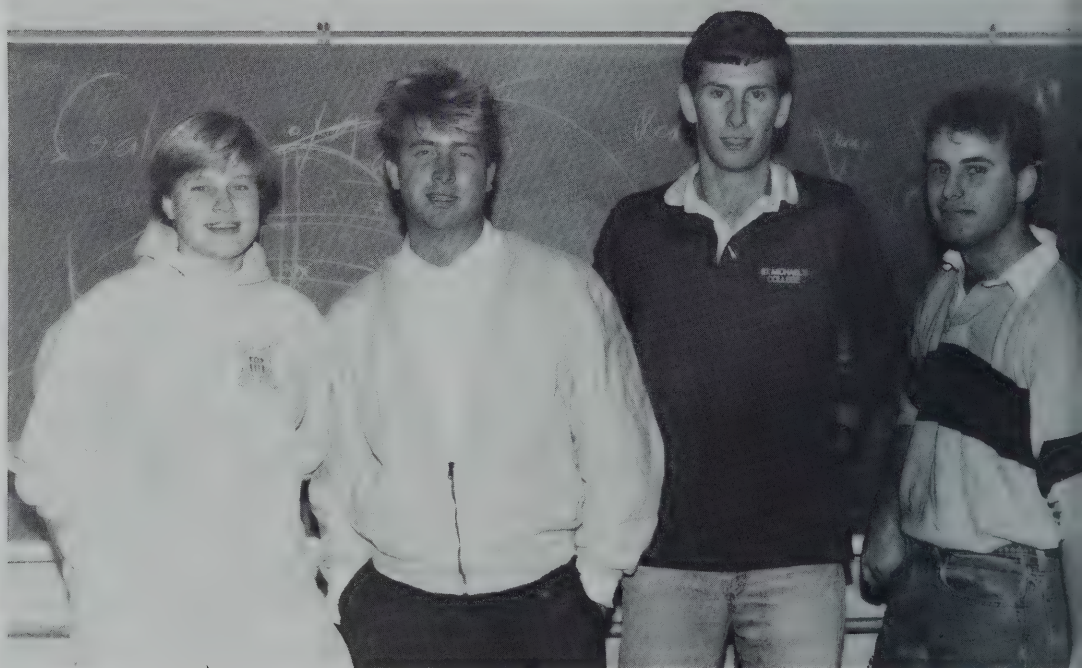

"Forget what?"

"We're debating the new alcohol policy tonight!"

"Boy are we lucky the important things stick in your mind."

"You're telling me."

"Now this — and don't be confused by its appearance — is the college library."

"No kidding. Hey Dad, does that look like a giant slide projector or what?"

"It is somewhat, errr, distinctive, yes."

"Who donated that thing? Eastman Kodak?"

"If we could just move along this way please . . . this . . . is the Ross Sports Center. It has basketball and tennis courts, a weight room, and right through here . . . is the pool."

"Can I ask a question?"

"Why certainly!"

"Why is the pool measured in yards instead of meters?"

"Excuse me?"

"The pool. Why is it measured in yards when all the swimming races I've seen are in meters?"

"Really? Well, I suppose . . . would you all follow me to the next building please."

"This is the Quad, so named because the buildings are set in a quadrangle."

"Daddy, it looks like a rectangle to me."

"I suppose they didn't want to nickname it 'The Wreck,' sweetheart."

"Whoa, check it out!"

"Oh my . . ."

"Cover your eyes dear!"

"Awright! Twelve moons in the middle of the morning."

"Oh no! I was hoping that Alumni would still be asleep!"

"Young lady, is this your job, to take people around this college?"

"No sir. I'm a volunteer."

"So you don't get paid?"

"No sir."

"Judging from what I've seen, you deserve combat pay."

Wind And Jazz Ensembles

Photos by P. Farrington

TO: Point of Origin
FROM: Exploration Team
RE: Second source of unusual sounds in northern sector

To supplement the last report on musical signals we have transmitted this addendum on a sub-unit of earth culture known as the "Wind and Jazz Ensemble." These devotees of a human creator of music called Count Basie play at various social gatherings throughout the northern region. On separate occasions they played in human settlements called Boston, Upper Saddle River, and Garden City, N.Y. Their musical signals range from the slow and melodious to the rapid and "swing" tempo, as they call it. That they were requested to play at the inauguration of the new president of their social and educational unit indicates that this "jazz" is some higher art form in human culture. More information as it is processed.

TO: Point of Origin
 FROM: Exploration Team
 RE: Results of communications monitoring in north area

We have encountered unusual signals emanating from a point in the northern observation area. Their point of origin is what is called a "radio station" that identifies itself as "The Rock Mother, 'PV FM.'" Aside from the amusing antics of some of its operators, this establishment is notable for the noises it emits, some of which are pleasant to the auditory senses and some of which are as soothing as the sound of steel shredding. Younger members of the species in the area surrounding this Rock Mother seem to enjoy the signals, to the point of telephoning the station and asking to hear a specific species of sound. These requests must be specific, however, as operators who play the signals known as "New Wave" or "Punk" would rather have various and sundry body parts amputated than play the species of signals known as "Top 40." Those operators who play the signals known as "jazz" consider the members of the other groups to be a lower form of human life. The only group which seems to be in harmony with all the others is a variety of humans known as "Deadheads." More information as it is processed.

Real World

1982 — Ronald Reagan is President, the economy is in a recession. Israeli forces invade Lebanon. Prince Charles and Princess Diana unveil Prince William to the world. John Hinckley Jr. wounds President Reagan with a handgun on national television — and is acquitted by reason of insanity. The Equal Rights Amendment fails to be ratified within the 10 year time limit, and dies. Disney releases TRON, first movie featuring large-scale use of computer generated images. Stephen Spielberg releases E.T. NASA opens the space shuttle for commercial flights. Herpes sounds the first death-knell for the Sexual Revolution. Ted Turner founds CNN. Norman Bates (Anthony Perkins) returns to the Bates Motel in Psycho II. Henry Fonda dies at age 77. Bruce Feirstein publishes Real Men Don't Eat Quiche. Ingrid Bergman dies at age 67. Gannett releases USA Today. The football strike stymies the 1982 football season. SAT scores rise for the first time since 1963. First Tylenol cyanide poisonings. The Polish government bans the Solidarity union. Time magazine names the personal computer its Man of the Year.

1983 — The U.S. and the U.S.S.R. resume arms limitations talks. Bjorn Borg retires from tennis. The oil glut rocks OPEC. Rita Lavelle is fired from the EPA amid charges of waste and corruption. The AIDS scare hits fever pitch. Apartheid hits the newsstands. Sally Ride becomes the first woman astronaut. Woody Allen releases Zelig. Eddie Murphy and Dan Akroyd star in Trading Places. The U.S. invades Grenada. CBS airs FBI tape of John DeLorean's cocaine purchase. Bob Dylan, Paul Simon, and the Rolling Stones release new albums. A terrorist suicide bombing in Beirut wipes out a Marine barracks, killing all the American Marines inside.

1984 — James Watt resigns as Secretary of the Interior. The Democrats start slugging it out to see who will challenge Ronald Reagan in the '84 election. Clara Peller makes Wendy's and "Where's the Beef?" an icon of American pop culture. Edwin Meese runs into trouble in the Senate trying to be approved as Attorney General. Soviet leader Yuri Andropov dies and is replaced by Konstantin Chernenko. Gary Hart's early sprint in the Democratic primary race fizzles out. Libyan gunmen kill a British policewoman during a London shootout. Reagan unveils the Star Wars defense plan. Robert Redford stars in The Natural. The summer olympics in Los Angeles see Carl Lewis, Greg Louganis, Edwin Moses, Joan Benoit, and the men's basketball team running over the competition, but Mary Decker gets tripped up by Zola Budd down the stretch. Prince releases the Purple Rain movie and soundtrack. Vanessa Williams bears all in Penthouse photo spread, steps down as Miss America. Reagan makes his "the bombing will start in five minutes" gaffe. Anti-apartheid riots rock the streets of South Africa. An I.R.A. attack barely misses killing British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher. The miniskirt makes a comeback. Bishop Desmond Tutu wins the Nobel Peace Prize. Dith Pran's story of genocide is revealed in The Killing Fields. Indira Gandhi is killed outside her home by Sikh extremists. Surgeons transplant a baboon heart into Baby Fae. Reagan swamps Mondale in the November election.

1985 — Bernhard Goetz becomes the "Subway Vigilante" after shooting four youths in a New York subway.

John Fogerty, late of Creedence Clearwater Revival, releases Centerfield. Molly Ringwald, Judd Nelson, Emilio Estevez, Ally Sheedy, and Anthony Michael Hall go from the "Brat Pack" to the Breakfast Club. Madonna and Cyndi Lauper blitz the Top 40. Chernenko dies and Mikhail Gorbachev becomes the first of a new generation in Soviet leadership. Lionel Richie, Michael Jackson, Bruce Springsteen, Quincy Jones, Ray Charles, Stevie Wonder, Bob Dylan, Diana Ross, Dionne Warwick, and a score of other American singers record "We Are the World" in support of the African famine relief effort. Amadeus wins the Oscar. Josef Mengele's skeleton found in Brazil. Or was it . . . A TWA flight is taken hostage in Beirut. Michael J. Fox stars in Back to the Future. Coca Cola unveils New Coke to mixed reviews. Rock Hudson is diagnosed as having AIDS. 3 billion people watch Live Aid, the famine relief concert, on worldwide television. An American search vessel locates the wreck of the ocean liner Titanic.

1986 — Corazon Aquino challenges Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos for control of the country. Marcos's abdication reveals his wife's shoe fetish. "Baby Doc" Duvalier also ousted, leaves Haiti in a hurry. Voyager 2 sends back photos of Uranus. The space shuttle Challenger explodes shortly after takeoff. U.S. forces bomb Libya. The Soviet nuclear power plant at Chernobyl explodes and begins to melt down.

1982 — SEPTEMBER, the Class of 1986 arrives at St. Michael's. Greg Kaknes is S.A. President.

Our World

Whispers is still Le Club. The Prime Factor is the Bricks. Bradshaw's is still Carpenter's. Finnegan's is still green on the outside and dark on the inside. Clancy's is still Dugan's. Reuben James is still Doolin's. The Morgan Store is still the Qwik Stop. Richard Snelling is the governor of Vermont. Objection of mandatory draft registration runs high. Southside Johnny and the Asbury Jukes make 1,500 enemies by blowing off their St. Michael's concert at the last minute. WWPV is increasing power to 100 watts from 10. Drs. Garrett, Maher, and Bolduc announce that they are writing a sociology textbook. First stirrings of a campus consolidation plan. Kaknes resigns and leaves St. Michael's. He is replaced by Vice President John Egan. The Defender causes a stir by printing an ad for a term paper writing service. Classmate John Ferris is killed by a hit-and-run driver in Boston.

1983 — Mary Howley, Kristen Shoenebeck, and Deldre Maggipinto introduce the Weekend Shuttle (Drunk) Bus to SMC. Our first room draw — Russian Roulette revisited. Richard Raqueler's firing stirs questions about the tenure process. Egan and Pete Hogan draft a letter to the trustees protesting the tuition increase. Tuition goes up anyway. Winter Weekend, and David Johansen plays to mixed reviews — and no crowd. The Amazing Jonathan entertains most of us. Fr. Robert Drinan speaks at McCarthy and calls for an end to the nuclear arms race. Steve Antrim resigns as men's basketball coach after a subpar season. Cuts in financial aid rear their ugly heads. Men's and women's lacrosse go varsity. Fr. Leon Paulin dies at the age of 69. Fr. Edward Stapleton dies at the age of 63. The Class of '87 joins us in the Quad. Pres. Henry drives the final nail into the rugby team's coffin, forbidding the S.A. from sponsoring it. The Market opens in Allot, and Greensleeves replaces the much-maligned Purple Knight Snack Bar. Classmate Brenda Carrier dies of Hodgkin's Disease, Nov. 4. St. Michael's finds a Japanese sister — Selbo College.

1984 — The trustees consider co-ed housing. Same old story: another tuition hike in 1984. Carole King appears at McCarthy to stump for Gary Hart's presidential campaign. Vinnie D'Angelo is elected S.A. President, despite a strong showing by Brian Cummings and the mysterious Earl. Rain washes out P-Day '84 — but not the party in the Gladiator's trailer. The soccer field is renamed in honor of Doc Jacobs. George Bush stumps SMC for Reagan. Dave Davoren causes a stir in the sporting world with his "What is Field Hockey" story, which garners a record six letters to the Defender. The men's soccer team tops UVM for the first time in 12 years. The Vermont legislature proposes raising the drinking age to 21. The Morgan Chain buys the Qwik Stop. Bishop Desmond Tutu is forced to cancel his St. Michael's speaking date to go to Stockholm and pick up his Nobel Peace Prize. 600 students sign a petition protesting the new party policy. The administration uncovers its plans for campus consolidation. The Campaign for Excellence begins. St. Michael's and UVM boycott Burlington bars to protest the proposed raise in the drinking age. Dr. Mark Finch dies suddenly. Sue Duprat notches her 100th win as women's basketball coach.

1985 — Dr. Paul Reiss is chosen to succeed Pres. Edward L. Henry, who resigned at the end of the 1984-85 school year. Prof. Gluffre follows in the steps of Richard Raqueler, and gets burned on the tenure-go-round. The Partial Observer hits the St. Michael's newsstands. Four Norwich students assault a St. Michael's student and two visitors in the 200's parking lot. The S.A. recognizes the Fire and Rescue Squad. The Fools, Urban Blight, the Stompers, and a nice day make P-Day '85 a major success. Tuition increases again for '85-'86. Tom Hanna is elected S.A. President and runs into a wall when his committee nominations are voided on a technicality. Paul Reiss is inaugurated as the 14th president of St. Michael's. Cocaine and homosexuality stir controversy on campus. Construction begins on the New Building — as yet unnamed. The Vermont legislature raises the drinking age to 21. Founder's Hall goes coed. WWPV gets approval to convert to stereo broadcasting.

1986 — Pres. Reiss announces that tuition money will be used to help pay off the New Building. Dr. Gilbert Grady dies after a long struggle with cancer. Winter Weekend: get bombed on the sled run by snow, or bomb down the Fanny Allen Hill at the bonfire. The Ramones and nasty beer lines overwhelm us on P-Day '86, possibly the final spectacle. Dith Pran gives a personal account of the Killing Fields during his McCarthy lecture. The Board of Trustees elects not to divest St. Michael's stock in companies with South African interests.

In conclusion we would like to thank all seniors who contributed pictures to this yearbook along with the following photographers without whom this section would not exist.

Thank you — Trish Bohner, Glenn Brady, Pat Farrington, Michelle Labrecque, Tim Morrissey, Laurie Thomas, and Paula Rooney.

Our apologies are extended to those seniors who are not included in the yearbook and to our faculty who may have been omitted from these pages; we tried our best.

Congratulations Class Of '86

STUDENT LIFE

From the Faculty and Staff of the Graduate Studies Department.

CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES

To The Class Of 1986

St. Michael's College offers graduate degree programs in:

ADMINISTRATION (M.S.A.) (C.A.M.)

The Master of Science in Administration is a part-time 36-42 credit degree program designed specifically for working professionals in private industry or public service. The program offers evening and weekend classes, individual programs of study, an applied and practical approach throughout the curriculum and a faculty of professionals from various disciplines and work settings.

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY (M.A.)

The master of arts program in clinical psychology is designed to meet three objectives. The first is to provide students with a broad background in Psychology and clinical practice, with an emphasis on either community service and administration, or school consultation. Students may elect either emphasis. The second objective is to prepare students for state licensing examinations at the masters level. The third is to prepare students for doctoral work at another institution.

EDUCATION (M.ED.) (C.A.G.S.)

A graduate degree program offering concentrations in Curriculum Development, Administration Reading, Special Education or Computers. The philosophy underlying the various concentrations with this program is humanistic pupil orientated. Our graduate students are encouraged to participate actively in the design of their degree program.

LIBERAL STUDIES (M.A.L.S.)

This new graduate program is designed for professional and other college graduates who wish to explore or rediscover the meaning of the "wisdom-of-the-ages" as this relates to today's world.

TEACHING ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE (MATESL)

A graduate degree program (and also a certificate program, 18 Gr. cr.) designed for English speaking and non-English speaking students who wish to develop creative and innovative methodologies for the teaching of English to non-English speaking students.

THEOLOGY AND PASTORAL MINISTRY (GRADUATE CERTIFICATE, M.A., C.A.S.)

Our Graduate Theology and Pastoral Ministry program offers a pre-degree Graduate Certificate, M.A. in Theology, with concentrations in Religious Education, Pastoral Ministry and Spirituality, Theology and Scripture; a post-degree Certificate of Advanced Specialization.

Acknowledgements

The following people deserve many thanks for all they contributed to this yearbook:

- Larry Johnson for taking the Christmas Semi-Formal pictures when no one else could.
- Ed Markey for many sports pictures.
- Mike McGrall for all the copy, especially the chronology.
- Gerry Miles for the Men's Basketball photo.
- Myrna for all the help identifying people and the many other favors.
- Mark Saks, Jostens Rep.
- Jacki Murphy for all her support as well as for the little shoves that were sometimes necessary to get things going.
- Kevin Perley for the divider pages and covers (I hope everyone appreciates all the work you did!)
- Diane LeBlanc for writing the poem.
- Defender for the sports photos we "borrowed."
- All who supported the book financially. We couldn't produce a book without funds.
- All who donated pictures.
- The following photographers who may or may not have gotten the credit they deserve: Tim Morrissey, Glenn Brady, Laura Maloney, Patricia Bohner, Paula Rooney, Diane Kavanaugh and Lori Thomas.
- My entire staff, who pulled through when I needed them: Michelle, Kevin, Mike, Pat, Trish, Marie and Beth.
- Mr. and Mrs. Carrier for their picture of Brenda.

The Hilltop would like to apologize for the following pictures which did not come out: 90 & 92 College Parkway, the Resident Directors, Erin Cooke, Martha Murphy, Meg James, the Men and Women's Ski Teams, and any organizations which did not get either pictures or write-ups.

Thoughts From The Editor

This page is generally reserved for a serious reflection of the undertaking of the yearbook. However, this is not your typical editor's page. Then again, this is not your traditional S.M.C. yearbook. The staff got a little "creative" when it came to the copy, divider pages, covers and other things.

When preparing this page, I asked a few of the section editors what they would like to see written here. The following is a combination of their thoughts and mine:

Everyone must regress once and a while, and the 1986 Hilltop staff chose to go back to their second childhood.

So what if we had a little fun making this book. We all did our own thing, and what a masterpiece we have created!

When you are a middle-aged yuppie, married with 2.5 children and a station wagon, REGRESS!! Yes, go back to the days when you lacked maturity, when you were discovering yourself, and when you passed into "adulthood." Now, that wasn't bad. So, lighten-up and remember, we got out while the getting was good!

From the people who will never forget their youth or their days spent at St. Mike's (which, at times, were one in the same),

The Hilltop editors:

Linda Robitaille

Michelle Labrecque

Kevin Perley

Michael McGrail
